Add on Course on Journalism and Mass-Communication: Report

The Department of Political Science in Dhruba Chand Halder College organized a short term course named as 2 months Add on course on Journalism and Mass-Communication for our students to assure their better future. All the classes are arranged for 2 hours duration on specified dates with renowned speakers on this field. The coordinators of this course were Prof. Subir Gayen and Prof. Sudeshna Das. This course was started from 18th August to 2nd October, 2020 and focused its different perspectives and details through 15 valuable classes. All the interested students from different department participated and successfully completed this course.

OUTCOME OF THE ADD-ON-COURSE

The Department started with 60 students initially, but unfortunately, 10 of the students could not complete the course within the stipulated time, and were not able to take the examination.

The main problem that we encountered was the students' inability to comprehend and understand the subject, in the initial stages. Since they were new to this subject, it was difficult for them to understand the subject. But, as the course proceeded, the situation began to improve and traces of development soon began to be seen in them. Since there were topics like sport journalism and media journalism, they showed their interest and began to cultivate their interest in topical discussions. Students are now able to relate to the emerging trends in the field of journalism. Students are now able to analyze the various aspects of journalism with objectivity. Also they are able to identify, assess, and analyze the ideological issues related to journalism.

Through this course they are capable to comprehend the history and development of communication at various levels of the society and its role with respect to modern day technology. They are also capable to demonstrate an elementary knowledge of the role and importance of communication at media platforms.

Through this course they are able to understand the basics of journalism and recognize the contributions of the renowned journalists to the field of print media, understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and incorporate this fundamental right when functioning at different political structures.

They have also learned to think critically, creatively and independently; evaluate one's work and the work of others for accuracy, fairness, clarity, style and correctness. They have also understand to write balanced reports through objectivity, accuracy, and brevity and understand the duties and qualities of a responsible reporter. They are now capable to analyse the importance of media laws and ethical issues which will convince the budding journalists to engage in their career assignments without compromising the professional and ethical standards. The course explained the ethical concepts, legal implications, considerations and practices that guide the mass media professions.
